LinkedIn B2B Outreach Playbook

Connection to Discovery Call in 5 Steps — No Paid Ads Required

This play book works for any B2B service business. The goal is not to sell on LinkedIn — it's to move qualified conversations off LinkedIn and into a call or DM. Follow the steps in order.

STEP 1 — PROFILE OPTIMISATION (Do this first)

Your profile is a landing page, not a CV. Before sending a single connecti on request,

make sure every element
works for your ideal client.

STEP
2 — T ARGE
LIST

BUILDING

Use LinkedIn Sales Navigator (free trial available) or the basic search filters to build a targeted prospect list before outreach begins.

1. Define your ICP

Industry, company size (employees), job title, seniority level, geography

2. Use

boolean search

e.g. "Marketing Director" AND "SaaS"

NOT "Freelance" in people search

3. Qualify before connecting Check their activity — have they posted in the last 30 days? Active users respond 3x more.

4. Build a list of 50 targets per week

Quality over quantity. Know something specific about each before reaching out.

Content
-based:
"Hi
[Name]
— your post on [topic] last week was spot on.
I've been thinking about this a lot in relation to [indus try].
Would

love to connect
and follow
work."

Mutual connect ion:

"Hi
[Name]

[Mutual] suggested I reach out. We both work in [space] and I thought connecti

made sense.
Happy to be a r

if ever useful."

Compan

based:

"Hi
[Name]

— I

noticed [ Compan

I'd love to connect
— we work with a few teams
doing similar things."

Problem
-aware:

"Hi
[Name]
— I
work sp ecifically with [role] at [ compan

on [chall enge].
connecti

made sense in case
it's ever r

Direct
and honest:

"Hi
[Name]
— I'll be upfront:
I think what we do
could ge nuinely help [Co

company].
Would love to connect
and share so much
— zero
pressure
."

STEP 4 — FOLLOW-UP SEQUENCE (3-touch framework)

1. Message 1 (Day 1 after connection): The Value Drop

Share
something genuinely
— a resource,
insight,
or observation
relevant to them.

No ask.

"Hi
[Name]

thanks for connecting. I've
writing about [topic] — thought this might be useful: [link or insight].
No
agenda, just thought
of you when I saw it."

"Based

make sense?
No
slides,
no pitch.
Just

want to understand if there's a fit worth exploring."

STEP 5 — OBJECTION HANDLING

"Not interested"

"Completely understood — appreciate the honesty. Mind if I ask what the biggest challenge is with [topic] right now? Genuinely curious, no agenda."

"We already have someone for this"

"Good to know — sounds like you've got it covered.

Happy to be a second opinion if you ever want to benchmark."

"Send

"Happy
to — what specifically would be most useful?
A case study,
pricing overview,
or process walkthrough?"

"Not

"Makes
sense.
When
would be a better time to revisit?"

Happy
to reach out then instead."
