

Podcast Launch Checklist

48-Point Launch Plan

Podcasts fail on consistency and audio quality long before content. Get the format and the chain right, and the rest becomes sustainable.

What's inside

- Format and episode structure decisions
- Recording chain and room treatment
- Distribution and RSS setup
- Launch-week episode strategy
- Repurposing workflow

Format

- 01 Decide episode length and hold it consistently
- 02 Choose interview, solo, or panel and commit for a season
- 03 Define a repeatable episode structure
- 04 Plan a full season before recording episode one

Audio Quality

- 01 Dynamic microphone in untreated rooms, condenser in treated
- 02 Record each speaker to a separate track
- 03 Treat the room with soft furnishings before buying gear
- 04 Monitor with headphones during every recording

Distribution

- 01 Choose a host that generates a compliant RSS feed
- 02 Submit to Apple, Spotify, and YouTube before launch
- 03 Write show notes with timestamps and links
- 04 Set up transcripts for search and accessibility

Launch

- 01 Publish three episodes on day one so binging is possible
- 02 Schedule a consistent release day and keep it
- 03 Give each guest ready-made assets to share
- 04 Cut vertical clips from every episode for social
